

Become part of the team that is innovating
Life and Short Term insurance

Apply now if you are keen to be part of an innovative company with a team of like-minded professionals.

Please send CV to Razeena.Gani@fnb.co.za Applications close on 21 April 2022.

1

We are currently recruiting for an Actuarial Analyst within the Actuarial team for FNB Life. The incumbent will be responsible to provide support with the development of IFRS17 actuarial methodologies and principles and examine the operational and financial impacts of the chosen methodology on the insurance business.

Roles and responsibilities:

- Responsible for assisting with IFRS17 implementation and transition to BAU
- Interrogate and analyze the IFRS17 standard with the intention of drafting actuarial methodology frameworks
- Assist with calculations related to IFRS17 transition and implementation
- Support with technical IFRS17 impact analyses
- Produce actuarial reports and presentations for internal and Board committees

Ideal fit for the role:

- Newly or nearly qualified actuary
- 2+ years experience
- Prophet experience will be advantageous
- IFRS17 implementation and transition experience will be advantageous
- Detail orientated
- Strong technical, analytical and communication skills
- Ability and willingness to interrogate and apply technical financial standards
- Organized

2

We are currently recruiting for a Pricing Manager to join the Actuarial Pricing and Analytics team for FNB Short Term. The role is accountable for delivering pricing and analytics for personal lines products underwritten by FNB Short Term.

Roles and responsibilities:

The role includes all aspects of pricing including input into product design, assumption setting, modelling, competitor benchmarking, and experience monitoring as well as mentoring junior resources. In addition, the role will include claims, sales and general product analytical work providing insight to business and operational areas. The individual will work with multiple stakeholders including the product teams, corporate actuarial, sales, claims and reinsurers. The role also provides the unique opportunity to work in a collaborative environment across the broader FirstRand Group.

Ideal fit for the role:

- Nearing qualification or qualified actuary
- 4-6 years short term insurance pricing experience (personal lines essential, commercial experience is beneficial)
- Strong technical, analytical and communication skills